GENERAL LOCAL NEWS.

Brief Mention of Events Concerning the People of Cairo and Vicinity.

The moderating weather yesterday permitted the resumption of work by the contractors on the foundation of the Grinstead building, corner Eighth street and Ohio levee.

The funeral of Louisa May Bechdel, the 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bechdel, was held Sunday afternoon. Rev. J. T. M. Knox, officiating. Interment was made at Villa Ridge.

Mr. Curtis Ritchey, who has been connected with the saloon of Mr. P. Saup for a number of years, will embark in the grocery and meat market business at 1415 Washington avenue on the first of next month. On this account the plans of Mr. and Mrs. Saup for their European trip have been changed and they cannot tell just when they will leave Cairo. Mr. Ritchey was a valued employee and his attentive business methods will no doubt bring him success in his new venture.

The following officers have been elected by the Woman's Mission circle of the Cairo Baptist church. President, Mrs. Sprout; first vice president, Mrs. R. H. Baird; second vice president, Mrs. M. A. Howe; secretary, Miss Maude Loflin; treasurer, Mrs. H. Steinel.

"Christianity vs. War" was the subject of an address by Hon. D. W. Karraker, of Jonesboro, at the Y. M. C. A. rooms Sunday afternoon. The talk was listened to with much interest and the subject was ably handled.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Creighton of Seventeenth St., gave a 6 o'clock dinner last Saturday in honor of the Misses Ruby and Hattie Hawley of Mound City and Mr. Harry R. Lawrence of Coliden. The spread consisted of several courses and was greatly enjoyed by those present. The Misses Hawley returned home Sunday and Mr. Lawrence returned yesterday to Coliden.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church will meet with Mrs. J. M. Lansden this afternoon. All are invited.

The Children's Home board will hold a special meeting at the home this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Washington's birthday was observed appropriately at The Halliday yesterday. In a way that was highly appreciated by the guests of that popular hostelry. The menu was a very elaborate piece of the printers art. The first page consisting of a copy of a celebrated painting, done in colors, of George Washington and Robert Morris. The menu itself consisted of six or seven courses and represented the excellent skill of the chef presiding over the culinary department of The Halliday.

DIED SUNDAY.

William Brankle died at St. Mary's infirmary Sunday morning at 7 o'clock of pneumonia.

The deceased was 36 years old and was the son of Joseph Brankle, of 207 Walnut street. Up to the time of his death he held the position of foreman for Kelly Bros. Lumber Co. He was not married and is survived by his father, two brothers, Joseph and George, and two sisters, Mrs. Andrew Klein and Miss Carrie Brankle.

The funeral will be held at St. Joseph's church at 8 o'clock this morning and interment will be made at Villa Ridge cemetery.

GEN. CHARLES F. DICK.

Gen. Charles F. Dick has lately been prominently in the public eye through his position as chief political lieutenant to Senator Hanna and the charge which has been freely made that it is General Dick who has been instrumental in sounding the chances of Senator Hanna's election to the Presidency. General Dick, who has been associated with Senator Hanna for many years is representative in congress from an Ohio district.

PROTECTED PASSENGERS

Eddie Powers Whipped a Bully Leader and Cowed a Drunken Mob.

Forty-two drunks were reported to have left Central Union station on Illinois Central train No. 1 at 5:32 yesterday afternoon for Fulton, Ky., and other points south. But before they left the bully and leader of the crowd carried a gash in his head as a result of coming in contact with a billy in the hands of Special Detective Eddie Powers.

The train crew was awed when the drunken passengers took possession of the principal coach and with vile language heaped repeated insults upon the lady occupants of the car.

It remained for Detective Powers to quell the disturbance and he did so very quickly. The leader of the mob was ordered to the smoking car, but replied with an insulting remark, and refused. A blow from Powers' club made a wound which gave a doctor a few minutes' employment with a needle and the fellow went to the smoker. His companions were completely cowed, and being ordered to "fall in line," very meekly followed their leader. Detective Powers accompanied the train to Fulton and saw that order was maintained.

MADE EGRO APOLOGIZE

At Point of Revolver "Mike" Campbell Forced African to Beg Lady's Pardon.

A little scene was enacted at the Planters' House Sunday morning which will probably be long remembered by one colored cook named John Quincy Adams and may teach him a lesson.

One of the young lady waitresses at the Planters' House placed an order with J. Q. Adams, who holds the position as cook but failed to get what he ordered and remonstrated with him. He replied by cursing her, calling her vile names and threatening to throw her out of the kitchen, whereupon with tear-stained face the young lady, it is said, made her grievance known to the proprietor of the house and received the reply that waiters were easier to get than cooks.

M. H. Campbell, better known as "Mike" Campbell, was in the office and heard the complaint of the young lady. He waited for the appearance of the negro and when he came escorted him at the point of a revolver to the young lady and made John Quincy apologize and promise it would never occur again.

The negro swore out a warrant charging Campbell with disorderly conduct.

HE CELEBRATED "SOME"

Cairo Police Officer Welcomed Washington's Birthday in a Rather Noisome Manner.

There is perhaps only one individual in Cairo who yesterday celebrated the anniversary of the birth of the Father of Our Country in a fitting and truly patriotic manner. Just as the first streaks of dawn were visible on the eastern horizon and the sun, which on the 22nd day of February nearly two centuries ago rose on the birth of a nation's hero, was peeping over the Kentucky hills, six shots were borne on the calm, salubrious atmosphere and smote the ears of the slumbering Cairo residents in the neighborhood of Twelfth street and Commercial avenue. Followed by a silence which was as profound as death itself, the aroused inhabitants were left to their slumbers and to dream of valorous deeds and the terrible ordeal of crossing the ice-filled Delaware to capture the British at Trenton.

It was the warm patriotic blood and "rvent liberty-loving nature of one of Cairo's oldest Irish-born citizens which prompted the salute to this memorable day. Judge Daniel McCarthy being the celebrant.

The judge said that even though it were prohibited by the city ordinances and punishable by a heavy fine, he would celebrate this day and willingly pay for it.

HAVE NEW UNIFORMS.

The Cairo Electric and Traction company has received new uniforms for its conductors and motormen and in a short time the men will be seen in duty with shining brass buttons and new caps.

Each motorman and conductor will have a number which will be on the front of his cap. The employees are very proud of the natty attire and will wear a broad smile when the new dress is put in service.

DEATH FROM FEVER.

Frank A. Randall died at the home of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Randall, 415 Thirty-fourth street, early Sunday morning, of typhoid fever. The deceased was 38 years old and unmarried. He was a steamboatman and a nephew of Capt. Jas. Higien. Funeral services were conducted yesterday morning at 10 o'clock by Secretary J. H. Humbert, of the Y. M. C. A. The remains will be interred at the former home in Michigan.
